

NASTE Season 2015 – Race #10

March 7, 2015

The Gorge Raceway, Troutdale, Oregon

NASTE racers returned to The Gorge for the 10th race of the 2015 season. With 18 racers in attendance we attacked the course with a vengeance!

For the evening festivities a set of somewhat equally prepared SCX NASCARs with traction magnets were offered up. And they happily ripped down the long front straight and through the first section of fast flowing curves, only to be confronted by the difficult and challenging infield section of tight corners and short straights.

That's when the real fun started! Crash, bash, moan and groan.

And so it went, drivers would fly around half the track and then struggle to get the long NASCAR's through the tight spots. Some made it, some cried rider, some just cried. Yes, the Gorge is a challenging Scalextric track to say the least.

Coming out on top in the NASTE Challenge division was Jeff Fields with Mitch Brooks taking second and Tyler Petrequin just edging out dad Perry for third.

In the Experts division home town hero Bob Nakamura finally got past early leader Monte Saager – well they were his cars after all – to bring home the victory. Also coming up big in the second set was Bryan Trachsel finishing in second while the Big Smooth stumbled to a third place finish.

As always, the food was second to none. Thanks to all that contributed, it was a fantastic night.
